

Hi Neighbor,

I hope this note finds you well. I live in the neighborhood and wanted to share some information about something important to me: making sure our community is prepared to protect our elections here in Michigan.

As you may know, Michigan is a critical battleground state, so all eyes are on our elections. That's why it's so important that everyday people like us are informed, engaged, and ready to step up to ensure every voter can cast their ballot safely and confidently.

The Election Protection Corps is a grassroots network of volunteers dedicated to protecting our right to vote. Our democracy depends on every voter having an equal chance to cast a ballot and have their vote fairly counted. .

A lot of folks aren't aware of how they can help in these moments, so I encourage you to share this information with your network. When we look out for one another and stay informed, we build stronger, more resilient communities and protect the foundation of our democracy.

Your Neighbor,
